Subject: The Response to Public Comments for the Bristol Bay Assessment is Available

Greetings –

The Response to Public Comments documents for the May 2012 and April 2013 Drafts of An Assessment of Potential Mining Impacts On Salmon Ecosystems of Bristol Bay, Alaska are now available on the EPA website: www2.epa.gov/bristolbay

EPA Response to Comments on 2012 Draft \(PDF\) (648 pp, 4 MB)

EPA Response to Comments on 2013 Revised Draft \(PDF\) (585 pp, 3 MB)

These two documents present an overview of the input EPA received during the public comment periods, the text of technical public comments relevant to the science presented in the assessment, and EPA's responses. The comments heard at public meetings are also included with the 2012 Response to Comments document.

Over the two comment periods, EPA received more than one million comments. We would like to express our appreciation to everyone who took the time to provide technical input and share their perspectives on the assessment.

Thank you for your interest in the Bristol Bay Assessment. Please send questions and comments to R10BristolBay@epa.gov

Sincerely,

Judy Smith
